Dear Mr. Zentmeyer:

I am writing to apply for the developer position advertised in the Cincinnati Enquirer. This position caught my attention because I know that your company does a lot of online simulation games, along with helping Fox Sports Interactive with their website and fantasy games, so your company deals a lot around sports which is just like my life. Besides having almost 2 years of web development background in the languages that your company already uses, I also have a lot of sports background knowledge that I think can help with some of your simulation games engine.

I am currently a 4th year student at the University of Cincinnati with the projected graduation date of April 2017 with a BS in Computer Science. I have currently spent the last 21 months working full time and part time at your company so that is why I will make a great fit for the full time position. I have already learned so much about the company and how it operates, and also working here has increased my developer skills tremendously. I already know all the languages, skills, and strategies that your company uses , so I will be able to apply all of these right away.

I would love to schedule an interview to discuss my future with WhatIfSports, please contact me at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

Cody A. Wisniewski
